BIG MASONS TO BE HERE ON JUNE 24

GRAND AND DEPUTY GRAND
MASTERS TO DELIVER AD-DRESSES—PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENT

The Masonic Festival in celebration of St. John's day, to be held in Stanford, June 24, will be attended and addressed by the Grand Master and by the Deputy Grand Master of the State of Kentucky. Masonic celebrations of the same kind will, on that day, be held all over Kentucky, but the presence of these two chief officers of the State makes the celebration at Stanford the one of chief interest in the whole Commonwealth. Forty-five children from the Masonic Home will be present in the uniform of the State's patrol and they will render an attractive program during the day.

The indications are, that in the event of a fair day, something like 4,000 people will be present. An old fashioned picnic dinner will be served to the people by the Masons and their friends. There will be music, speeches, songs and games. Lincoln county hospitality will be in evidence with full baskets and it will be a day long to be remembered.

To comfortably and sufficiently feed the number of people that will attend the celebration will require the following out of well devised plans.

The arrangement determined upon is as follows: A place of depositary will be provided and put in charge of a committee of ladies, at this place the housekeepers bringing baskets will leave them with the committee. This depositary will be surrounded by a lodge table, within the center of the table will be those who superintend and serve the dinner, the people to be served being upon the outside of the circle. In this way uniformity of plan can be observed and the housekeepers who bring dinner be relieved of all care of it after reaching the ground. Hot coffee will be made at fires built upon the ground.

Base Ball To-Day

STRONG HUSTONVILLE TEAM
TO PLAY HERE.

On Friday afternoon, June 16, the Stanford High School base ball team will play a strong team from Hustonville. As the people know what a deal the boys experienced at Springfield, it should be the desire of all to come out and see the boys deliver the goods. It is in them to play good ball and they will do it when given a chance. It is reported that Hustonville has picked up another star pitcher, who will pitch against the Stanford boys Friday. Come and see a good game, admission 25c.

The lineup of the Hustonville team which is said to be an exceptionally fast bunch of players will be as follows: Allen, catcher; Woodrum, pitcher; Dunn, first base; Bishop, second base; Staggs, third base; Wright, short stop; Hall, left field; Weddle, center field; Barnett, right field.

Splendid Meeting In Progress

LARGE CROWDS HEAR REV. JOHNSON AT METHODIST CHURCH

The meeting at the Methodist church has started well, the evangelist, Rev. Andrew Johnson is giving addresses that interest and instruct and interest is increasing. Sunday night the services were held in the Courthouse, all the churches, of the town uniting with the Methodist, and the capacious temple of justice could not contain the audience. The singing of Rev. O. R. Callis and Mrs. Andrew Johnson is very attractive. Services are held every day at the Methodist Church at 10 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Mr. Johnson says, he wants the presence and co-operation of all Christians. Those who may be saved in the meeting are at liberty to join the church of their choice. Stanford needs a great awakening and Mr. Johnson having been reared in Lincoln county, is very desirous to see a genuine revival here. He is proud of his old county and has spoken its praises in thirty States of the union.

Fine Mules Killed

WHEN TREE FELL ON THEM IN BEE LICK COUNTRY.

Holdam's Mill, June 15. Mr. Laws of Bee Lick, had a $400 span of mules killed in the log wood. A tree fell across them and killed both mules. George Taylor and Morris Taylor have finished ceiling the new church at this place. Bryant Brown has been in Woodstock visiting relatives. Mrs. Jane Adams has been on the sick list this week. Mrs. Fulton from Tennessee, is the guest of Mr. Dick Smith of this place. Ida Thompson and children were the guests of her mother Margaret Brown Saturday night. Ethel Jiles and daughter, Lizzy were the guest of Ida Thompson Sunday.

Wm. Thompson has a full line of groceries now at this place. Gene Southern had his saddle the 12th and will soon go back to Indiana to make his future home. Mr. Charles Thompson is fixing to sell out and go to Ohio to join his brother there.

We have had a nice rain in this section. There is a singing school going on at Bethel, conducted by Mr. Wm. Owens. Jim Adams and wife Belle was the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Monday night, also Mr. Geo. White.

Heat Hatched Eggs

PROOF THAT STANFORD HAS HAD SOME WARM WEATHER

Dr. J. W. Bryant, of the New Stanford Drug Company, believes that the recent hot spell was the warmest ever known in this section of the country. He had visible experience that the weather was slightly above normal. On Sunday he had a hen to hatch all of a setting of eggs except three. The hen with her young brood was taken off early in the morning, and three unhatched eggs left in the nest, it being supposed that they were rotten. Late that afternoon someone happened to go to the hen-house and upon glancing into the abandoned nest, was amazed to find that two of the eggs had hatched out during the day, and the little chicks were peacefully waiting for a mother. Dr. Bryant believes that the heat of the day caused the two eggs to hatch out long after the hen had been removed from the nest.

McKINNEY

Mrs. Lena Beck was called to Somerset this week to see her sister, Mrs. J. W. Davis, who is very ill with rheumatism. The ladies of the Christian church cleared $18.00 at their supper last Saturday night, a large crowd was present and all had a good time while our band furnished us some good music.

Mr. F. M. Ware and family motored over to Danville in their new car last Monday.

Mrs. Etta Gooch and Miss Wilkie Adams of Somerset, are the attractive guests of Dr. Singleton and wife at their writing, suffering with the flu.

The Literary Society will meet at the school house Friday night. Mr. E. J. Tanner was confined to his room a few days with a slight attack of appendicitis, but is able to be up a little now.

Mr. Mitchell of Wayneburg, is helping Mr. Jacobs in his Marble and Granite shop this week.

Mrs. Walter Gode who has been visiting her mother here, Mrs. Kate Coffey, will return to her home in Cincinnati Sunday.

Preaching at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening by Rev. Coleman.

Montgomery Durham and Vida Baugh of Highland, were united in marriage, Wednesday at the bride's home in Highland, both have the good wishes of their many friends.

DIES AT ADVANCED AGE

Mrs. Susan Reed, aged 93 years, passed away at her home near Highland, of general debility incident to her advanced age on Tuesday, the 14th. She is survived by two children, W. M. Reed and Mrs. Sarah Austin and a large number of friends and loved ones who will mourn the dear old lady is no more. The burial took place Wednesday with services at the Highland Methodist church.

Suicide Attempted

BY ROCKCASTLE MAN VIA STRYCHNINE

Oscar J. Mullins, of Level Green, Rockcastle county, a prominent farmer and stock trader, aged 30 years, is lying at the point of death from an attempt to commit suicide by swallowing twelve tablets of strychnine while aboard a train Monday morning on his way home from Stanford, where he had gone some hours earlier.

On reaching Brodhead, he was removed from the train and doctors summoned. He is yet in a precarious condition. In his conscious moments Mullins states that family trouble caused his effort to end his life.

COL. WALTON SAYS OUR POPULATION HASN'T INCREASED

Col. W. P. Walton, editor of the Lexington Herald, who once lived in Stanford for about 30 years, doesn't believe the population has increased here in the past ten years. Col. Walton and family left here just about ten years ago—and has been sorry ever since that he did so—and as he's only made a couple or so flying visits back in that length of time, he's totally incompetent to judge of Stanford's progress in that or any other line since then, save and only as such is exemplified through the columns of the I. J., of which he is an appreciative and appreciated reader. Listen how he belittles us:

Stanford Hasn't Got 'em. When the census of last year showed that Stanford had lost nineteen in population in the decade, there was great indignation and the taker would probably been lynched if he had not kept himself scarce. The Interior Journal raved and swore by the eternal that it was all a put-up job, and the city council, being also of the same belief, ordered a special census to be taken. It has just been completed, with the result that there was an increase in the population 1671. As the government census was taken last year, the difference may be a natural increase or it may not. At any rate it does not cut much figure. We were living in Stanford in 1890, and when the census was announced at about 1,200 we were very indignant and upon our own hook had it retaken, selecting our brother, T. R. Walton, now of Atlanta, Ga., for the job. After a very diligent and conscientious effort he found not a great many more people than the census man had discovered, and we had to hang our heads in shame that The Interior Journal was published in so small a village.

There is always more or less criticism of the census takers, but while they may make mistakes, they are generally in the neighborhood of right, at least. Stanford hasn't got 'em, that's all.

CRAB ORCHARD

Mrs. Will James has returned from Louisville, visiting relatives. Miss Sallie McWhorter is at home from Richmond.

Mack Fisher has accepted a position with Cummins & Wearin in Stanford.

Mary Bailey is visiting friends and relatives in Stanford this week. Mrs. Emma Farris is with her son Mr. Steve Peters of Mullins Station.

Mrs. Hensley and children are with her father and family, Mr. Colyer for a few weeks.

Allie May Cummins visited Mrs. F. J. Cummins, of Stanford last week.

Mr. Will Ramsey, son and family of Lexington, came up in their auto Sunday and spent a few hours with Mrs. Claudia Holdman.

We are sorry of Thomas Morris illness he is at home and is better. Dr. W. A. Brown has returned from Orlando, Florida, where he spent several months. While there he saw Mr. E. C. Walton almost every day. Although Mr. Walton and Mr. George Kellar are doing remarkably well there in the daily newspaper business, Mr. Walton and family are very much dispirited and are very anxious to return to the dear old home country.

Mr. E. J. Tanner was confined to his room a few days with a slight attack of appendicitis, but is able to be up a little now.

Mr. Mitchell of Wayneburg, is helping Mr. Jacobs in his Marble and Granite shop this week.

Mrs. Walter Gode who has been visiting her mother here, Mrs. Kate Coffey, will return to her home in Cincinnati Sunday.

PREACHERSVILLE

After nearly two month's search, several trips to consult a fortune teller, and an ad in his county paper, John Richardson, a Garrard county farmer has at last found his fine young cow which was lost. The soothsayer gave such a clear description of a locality where the cow was, after consulting her cards, that Mr. R. could think of no other place filling the description so well as Deep Well Woods. A minute and off repeated search of the jungles revealed nothing. After a long, fruitless quest, Mr. R. despaired and gave up the chase. The other day he was pleasantly surprised on receipt of word from Mr. Hamilton, of Lancaster that a cow filling her description was with his cattle, near Cartersville. With Samuel Ramsey, Mr. R. went to that place and recovered his property. While in the Cartersville section they found a rattlesnake which they promptly dispatched.

The venomous reptile measured five feet nine inches in length and had nine rattles and a button.

Rev. Anderson Cornelius was in the pulpit at the Baptist church, Saturday and Sunday.

W. C. Pettus and family, of Hubert, visited his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Pettus.

The Misses McAlister visited Miss Bessie Hotzclaw at Walnut Flat. F. L. Thompson and daughter, Miss Susie, of Mt. Vernon, visited the family of J. J. Thompson.

Mrs. J. E. Roberts is visiting her parents at Walton.

Joe F. Pettus and family, of Springfield, were visiting relatives here.

Mr. P. owing a nice up-to-date auto and is very careful driver.

Prof. C. C. Lovell, of Georgia, is the expected guest of the family of Robt. McAlister.

Miss Ella Thompson, of Danville, visited here last week.

Misses Lucy and Mary Pettus, are at home from school at Richmond. Miss Mary will return in a few days to attend the summer term.

Edgar Kennedy, son of J. L. Kennedy, was kicked by a horse, luckily, however, he was only slightly injured.

S. D. Carpenter has a bad boil on his wrist.

John Tankerly, who once was employed near here by the late J. C. Horton, is dangerously ill of consumption at the home of his sister, near here in Garrard.

Little Miss Mamie Hotzclaw, visited Mrs. David Stephens.

F. E. Blankenship and Little son Fount, Jr., of near Stanford, visited the homefolks.

Howard and Hubert Hotzclaw visited Master Joseph Cressa.

Our friend William Rigby and wife, who have spent two years prospecting in Idaho are now with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rigby, after a visit to relatives in Arizona.

Messdames Shaw and Davis and little Miss Bertha Davis visited Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shaw.

David Warren, aged about 80 years living in the Harmon's Lick neighborhood, three miles east, dropped dead while at work in the field. Death is supposed to have been due to asthma and heart troubles of which he was a sufferer. Deceased was a good man and will be missed by his many friends. He had been making his home with his daughter Mrs. Sallie Stigall.

The picnic given Saturday at Goshen by Messrs. Scott, Gooch, Hotzclaw and other young men, was attended by a good crowd, every one having a nice time. Some idea can be had, when it is known that there was a barrel of lemonade, a nice dinner on the ground and everything free. Before and after dinner some forty couples enjoyed boat riding on Dix river. This pleasant affair was held in the beautiful Gooch Woodland.

Master Johnnie Martin, the nine-year-old son of Ben Martin, of Rowland, was severely burned last week by an explosion of powder. With playmate, Estes Smith, son of T. Smith, they came across some powder, and thinking to have a big gun, placed the explosive in the bottom of an old lantern. A match was applied which resulted in the lantern being burned considerably about the face, neck and arms. A physician was called and attended the injured youngster, who at last accounts was recovering.

YOUR NEIGHBOR'S EXPERIENCE

How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. E. G. Whiting, 360 Willow St., Akron, O., says: "For some time I had a very serious case of kidney trouble and I suffered with backaches and dizzy headaches. I had specks floating before my eyes and I felt all tired out and miserable. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and got a bottle and took them according to directions and results showed almost at once. The pain and dizzy headaches left me, my eye-sight became clear and to-day I can say I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills."

GOOCH-SKIDMORE

The Courier-Journal of Thursday said: William Skidmore, a farmer, who gave Louisville as his place of residence, and Mrs. Clara Gooch, of Lincoln county, were married in Jeffersonville yesterday morning by Magistrate Oscar Hay. The bridegroom was born in Lincoln county, and is 56 years old. He was married once before and was divorced from his former wife in 1905. The bride is also a native of Lincoln county and is 33 years old. Her name was originally Miss Clara Gooch and her first husband, who died in 1906, was a distant relative to her before their marriage.

MERCER MAY GET THAT NEW COURTHOUSE YET

The Court of Appeals Wednesday in the case of Enta vs. the Mercer County Fiscal Court held that the Fiscal Court has the right to levy a tax to build a court house without submitting the question to a vote of the people, provided of course, the court house tax does not interfere with the county levy above the fifty cent limit fixed by the constitution.

His Sister's Honor

AVENGED BY A 15 YEAR OLD SUIY AT LONDON

A dispatch from London to the Courier-Journal, Thursday said: Jesse Barker, the 15-year-old son of William Barker, of Lily, nine miles south of here, came to London at 4 o'clock this afternoon and surrendered to Sheriff Scoville on a charge of having shot and killed William Edwards, a prominent stock dealer, at the home of his father, last night.

The boy refuses to be interviewed. No arrangements have yet been made for the examining trial.

It is claimed by the Barker family that since a sister of the Barker boy became a mother about a year ago and Edwards was indicted, Edwards had continued to visit the Barker home against the wishes of the family, and that he was shot last night at 10 o'clock while talking with the Barker girl and after he had been asked to leave.

Edwards was shot with a shotgun at short range and his head was almost torn off. Edwards has been married but divorced. He was shot by his uncle, D. S. Tipton, a prominent farmer, on the streets of London five years ago over the divorce suit with his wife, and his life was saved by a skillful operation.

LANCASTER

John Frank Montgomery, a young farmer, 26 years old, struck by lightning and instantly killed about dusk while out in an open field at Judson, seven miles from this place.

The young man was leading a horse and mule. The horse and mule were both struck dead, but the mule was unhurt.

Mr. Thomas Baker Walker, a prominent resident of this place, and brother-in-law of B. F. Hudson, president of the Citizens' Bank, is lying in a dying condition here from softening of the brain. Mr. Walker is the eldest son of the late Wade Walker.

BARKSDALE HAMLETT

EDUCATOR CANDIDATE FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

Democratic Party Will Demand as Its Candidate a Man Who is a Practical and Experienced Educator.

The first law of a democracy is the equalization of opportunity, which means the equitable distribution of intelligence through an adequate provision of educational equipment.

There can appear no virtue in the cry of a "Square Deal" so long as there exists a monopoly of intelligence, in a state where society is composed of individuals equally endowed by nature, yet to the great masses of whom all the light of human achievement and the social heritage of truth are denied.

Through a permanently organized campaign for educational improvement, readjusted ideals must be converted into practical realities. Thus will the latent energies of society be set free and opportunity will indeed knock at the door of every home in Kentucky.

His Platform.

I stand specifically for: A school free and accessible to every child in every rural district in Kentucky.

BARKSDALE HAMLETT.

The improvement, sanitation and equipment of our rural schools, in accordance with the best modern standards.

Minimum seven months terms in every district.

A rational and effective compulsory attendance.

Practical course of study; agricultural and the domestic and mechanical arts and sciences.

Good roads and consolidation where practical.

Teachers of scholarship, character and personality.

County high schools, accessibly located in every county.

Improved facilities for the county superintendent's office.

Liberal enlargement and maintenance of our normal schools and state university as component parts of our public school system.

Readjustment of our system of finance to effect larger results on a more economic basis.

Personal leadership in the field on the part of the state superintendent.

Success Comes Only at End of Effort.

The subject of this sketch is a man of strong individuality, keen mentality, and a broad humanitarian spirit, whose interest in his fellow men is sincere, while his work is always actuated by a desire to advance the cause of education.

He worked in the tobacco patch for the means with which to educate himself, and succeeded to the extent that he was graduated from the Hamden-Sidney College of Virginia, with the Orator's medal of his class, at the age of nineteen. (From E. Polk Johnson's History of Kentucky, in publication.)

Endorsed by Educators and Press.

An ex-president of the Kentucky Educational association, one of its five original incorporators, and up to the present time a member of its board of directors. An ex-president of the Fourth Congressional District association; an ex-state board examiner. Began his career as teacher in Lynnland Academy, Hardin county, taught in the rural district and normal schools, Larue county; principal of the graded schools of Corydon, and principal of the Henderson high school, from which he came to the superintendency of the Hopkinsville public schools.

The Man For the Place.

Editor T. C. Underwood, president of the Kentucky Press association, in the Hopkinsville News Era: "The Democratic party could look long and hard without finding a worthier or more competent candidate for the important office of state superintendent of schools, Mr. Hamlett is a man who has always 'made good,' and his career has been a lesson of energy, perseverance and honor. The state has no more enthusiastic and effective an advocate of education, nor the Democratic party a more loyal supporter."

A Builder of Schools.

In another issue he has this to say:

"When Prof. Hamlett came to Hopkinsville, from Henderson, six years ago, as superintendent of the public schools, there were but two buildings. With the completion this year of the high school buildings, there will be six, at a cost of $200,000, and the faculty of twenty-three teachers has been increased to forty-six. * * * He is an orator of ability and in demand as an after-dinner speaker * * * He is a popular member of the Elks, W. O. W. and other fraternal organizations. Prof. Hamlett is also superintendent of the First Baptist church Sunday-school, one of the largest in the state."

A Leader in Progressive Movement.

Prof. Hamlett, though only thirty-two years of age, has had thirteen years of successful experience as a teacher, rising by rapid promotions from teacher of a small county school at $30 a month to the splendid position he now holds at the head of the Hopkinsville school system, with more than 2,500 pupils and 49 teachers under his superintendency. Under his direction the schools have been improved from year to year, until they are more than ever the pride of one of the most progressive cities of the state.

A clean, young and progressive teacher, who has all the elements of success in his make-up he is a man in every way capable of making an officer of whom the whole state would justly be proud.

A leader in every progressive movement, Barksdale Hamlett will help to redeem Kentucky in 1911, and will be the next superintendent of Public Instruction. (Mayor Chas. M. Meacham in the Hopkinsville Kentuckian.)

Master of School Problems.

From study and experience, he is master of the school problems of Kentucky and is particularly interested in the improvement of the common schools. The News knows no Democrat so thoroughly equipped at all points to make an ideal state superintendent, to advance the school interests of Kentucky, as Prof. Hamlett, and we would like to see him given the nomination without opposition. (Elizabethtown News.)

Friend to the Rural Schools.

Prof. Hamlett is a strong, intelligent friend to the cause of education and believes in a square deal from the smallest district to the most intelligent city in the country. He is certainly a friend to the common schools, believes in seven months' terms, good roads and improved facilities for our schools in every respect. (Mayfield Messenger.)

Strong Acquisition to the State Ticket.

Prof. Hamlett is in the foremost rank of Kentucky's educators and is in every way thoroughly qualified for the honor he seeks. We predict a successful candidacy for him and believe he will be a strong acquisition to the next state ticket. (Madisonville Journal.)

Solid Backing of Home People.

Hamlett stands at the very top among the educators of our state. His friends predict with all candor that he will go into the fight with the solid backing not only of his home county, but the entire second congressional district. (Daily Leader, Fulton.)

An Ideal Superintendent.

Barksdale Hamlett, of Hopkinsville, is the most advanced, intelligent and capable man in the state for superintendent of public instruction. He knows the needs of the state in all educational matters and would make an ideal state superintendent of public instruction. (H. A. Summers in The Elizabethtown News.)

Prof. Hamlett possesses all the qualifications to make the state an ideal superintendent. (Cadiz Record.)

The Man of the Hour.

As he is seen by the Ballard County Yeoman:

"The most casual reader can see in him the man of the hour, the man in whom all people of all parties can graciously unite and work for. His whole life, his every energy, his wonderful brain power are wrapped in this, the greatest work to be done in Kentucky. Though yet young, he is undoubtedly the best equipped man for this office the state has ever produced."

Determination and Success in His Face

A young man who seems to have an ambition to accomplish something worth while in the educational field, and judging from that determined expression in his frank open countenance, he is going to succeed in the undertaking. (Daily Bulletin, Maysville.)

A Worthy and Competent Leader.

His work at Hopkinsville is a monument to his ability as a school worker and organizer. He is abundantly qualified for the high office which he seeks, and his broad platform embraces the very best in educational endeavor. He is a worthy man in every respect, having worked himself up from a poor boy. Already he has pledged to him almost the solid vote of the teachers of the state, and all interested in the improvement and advancement of Kentucky's educational facilities, see in him a worthy and competent leader for the accomplishment of those things. (Hartford Herald.)

Successful in Great Undertakings.

He is eminently qualified for the position which he seeks, and his record as an educator has been one of uninterrupted success. It is due to him that the hands-on new Christian county and Hopkinsville high school is now a permanent reality, having been erected under the Sullivan law, at a cost of $100,000. (The News-Democrat, Paducah.)

We believe as state superintendent of public instruction, he would be the right man in the right place. (Calloway County Gazette.)

Mr. Hamlett believes in the equalization of opportunities, and his greatest wish in his work is to make opportunity knock at the home of every school child in Kentucky. We like Mr. Hamlett, and unlike most politicians he improves on acquaintance. In fact, he is not a politician, he is a school man who is well equipped for the office. (The Breckinridge News, Cloverport.)

Making a Fine Race.

He is a man of infinite ability and capacity and stands upon a platform that neither trims nor tergiversates; that begs no question, nor evades a single issue. Mr. Hamlett, a man of individuality and ability, an educator and orator, is conceded to be the logical man for the place and is endorsed by leading educators and the press. Prof. Hamlett is out for the Democratic nomination and is making a vigorous canvass; he stands for progression and has the unqualified endorsement of his home people. He has the credentials of a sturdy Democrat and bears the highest qualifications of an ideal superintendent. Eminently qualified for the position sought, we believe him to be "the man" for superintendent of our state schools.

Prof. Hamlett is a strong friend to the cause of advanced education and believes in a square deal from the smallest district to the most progressive city in the country. He is a friend to the common schools of the state, is a clean, sound and energetic teacher who has all the elements of success in his make-up and is a man in every way capable of making an officer of whom the whole state would be justly proud.

It is hoped that Mr. Hamlett will have no opposition before the Democratic primary, for he is so thoroughly Democratic and clean in his views, so well equipped from all angles, that antagonism would be almost unjustifiable.

Mr. Hamlett has given a good account of himself, and his work at Hopkinsville is a monument to his ability as a school worker and organizer. He has made more than good there and can make good at the head of Kentucky's school affairs. If you want to know what Barksdale Hamlett stands for, just follow carefully the creed of the man as promulgated by himself. (Henderson Journal.)

In the Lead.

Barksdale Hamlett, of Hopkinsville, continues in the lead for the Democratic nomination for Superintendent of Schools. His superior qualifications for the office give him a decided advantage over both his opponents, who are not active school men. The people of the State are awakening to the fact that to elect a lawyer to the agricultural department or a farmer to the superintendency of schools would be sheer folly, and they are lining up in this section at least for Mr. Hamlett mainly because he is an eminent, active educator and has made a success in his chosen line of work. IN MEMORIAM.

Kate daughter of Mrs. Lillie Friby of Arabia after a short illness died, May 24th, 1911 and was laid to rest at Pleasant Point Cemetery. She left many friends and relatives to mourn her loss. She, at the age of 15, is taken in the morning of life. On a few weeks ago, she was permitted to attend a revival service and gave her young heart to God. Her desire was to unite with Pleasant Point Baptist Church and be baptized but death came before she was permitted to do so. She fully understood that death was near and expressed herself frequently as being willing and ready to go. In her dying hours she requested her mother to read from the Bible and to sing "No More Good Byes," after which she fell asleep to awake in the Paradise of never fading glory, there to meet friends and relatives, who had already crossed the crystal tide. In lonely hours like these it is a supreme satisfaction to have promise on which we can rely that there is another life after this where we will never say good bye and where parting is no more. Kate was noted for her kind disposition and lovable nature which won for her many friends. The irreparable loss sustained by the mother and other relatives can never be understood except by them. After funeral services by Rev. Comb, the remains were laid to rest in Pleasant Point cemetery, there to remain until the resurrection morning.

Oh it is 'onesome without Kate,
We miss her everywhere.
We miss her at the table,
When we see her vacant chair.

One more home left sad and lonely,
One more body laid to rest;
Till the final trumpet sounds,
And the graves give up their dead.
Written by her teacher:
Maude Brown.

Lincoln Co. National Bank,
Stanford,
Ky.

Gentlemen:

We are mailing you under separate cover, an advance proof of the forthcoming National Bank Roll of Honor and wish to congratulate you on the fact that your excellent institution is represented thereon. Approximately there are seven thousand five hundred National Banks in the United States. Less than thirteen hundred of these are entitled to position on the Roll of Honor.

This statement reveals the distinctive character that Roll of Honor Banks possess. It is indeed an honor to be numbered among such sterling institutions, and you will no doubt appreciate the opportunity which is open to you to impress the fact on your friends and patrons, present and prospective.

Respectfully yours,

ISOM OLIVER

In memoriam of Isom Oliver, who died May 12, 1911. We have lost a darling Uncle. He has bid us all adieu; He has gone to live in heaven, And to us is lost from view.

One more home so sad and lonely
And one more body has gone to rest,
And we miss him, how we miss him,
But we know God did the best

He has found the joy of heaven,
He is one of the angel band;
To him a crown is given
And a harp is in his hand

He has learned the song they sing
Whom Jesus hath made free;
And the glorious walls of heaven ring
With his new born melody.

Our uncle walks the streets of heaven
With no pain no grief or pain,
Safe in his heavenly happy home
His fears all fled, his doubt all slain.

But, oh, he waits to welcome you
And me with joy and love bestow
For memories gold chain doth bind
His heart to kind friends below.
Miss Della Manuel.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Stanford People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy. Stanford people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. John H. Wren, E. Main St., Stanford, Ky., says: "I knew from experience that Doan's Kidney Pills are all that is claimed for them. Off and on for several years I had severe attacks of lame back. I often did work that required stooping and at such times the trouble became worse. There was also a too frequent desire to void the kidney secretions both day and night. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and have never failed to benefit me when I have taken them since."

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try it Free

Simple way for any family to retain the good health of all its members

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?" Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels has looked the whole field over, and has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constipated people. Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics or such things. Syrup Pepsin by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Graveline of 18 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and thousands of others. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor. Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 422 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Circuit Judge.
HON. CHARLES A. HARDIN,
of Mercer County

For Railroad Commissioner.
WILLIAM F. KLAIR
of Fayette County

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

William H. Shanks announces his candidacy for Representative from Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Well, they gave us Billy Klair for Railroad Commissioner at the Second District Democratic convention at Louisville Wednesday, and like the true blue, "yaller dog" democrat that we are, we are for him, tooth and toe nail, hide and ha'r. We have swallowed his bolting of Beckham and the Buckingham Boss, at one big gulp, and after such a dose, who can blame us or any other democrat who has such a pill handed him, for anything or anybody we might advocate?

However, the least said, the soonest mended. We put the nominee of the convention at our masthead and will tear what is left of our shirt to elect him, believing that the surest and best way to regenerate the party is to make the fight within its ranks not on the outside, and confident that if those who are democrats from conviction, do so, the right is finally bound to prevail. It is by desertion of the party and the fundamental principles it represents, by those who can not always have their own way in the selection of its nominees that has resulted in a republican governor now sitting in the executive chair at Frankfort and a republican in the national Senate from this commonwealth, and at other times that might be named, has cost democracy, heavy when it would otherwise have triumphed.

A great many of those who fought for Klair the strongest are among the very ones who have proved the traitors and deserted in time of need before. Of course, they are democrats now, and it can hardly be expected that they will bolt, now that they have had their way. Let's show them what it means for a democrat, who has not had his way to take his medicine like a little man, no matter how nauseating the dose, and come up smiling for more. It may profit them to follow in some future time the example which the anti-Klair democrats are going to set before them. True democracy is exemplified by the rule of the majority, and it has spoken. Therefore we cheerfully acquiesce.

Aside from other features, no Kentuckian can fail to approve the splendidly progressive platform adopted by the convention. It declares in emphatic terms for good roads, better schools, removal of the penal institutions of the state from politics, elimination of the Third House or lobby, which has become so notorious at Frankfort, the rigid inspection of banks, the popular election of United States Senators, a direct primary law, all expenses which are to be paid by the state, an amendment to the constitution, giving the people the right to change their taxation system if they wish, and other measures which will benefit the people of Kentucky as a whole. It is a splendid platform, and one upon which the democrats can well submit to the people.

Every democrat who is for McCleary for governor and wants to see the democratic ticket win next November, ought to vote for E. J. McDermott for lieutenant governor. He'll be worth many thousand votes and is of the class of democrats who

WORK OF THE STORK

"Say, did a single stork bring you, Uncle Otto?"
"Of course!"
"But not all at once?"

Help for All

Andrew Carnegie once suggested as an epitaph for his own tombstone what he said was the secret of his success: "Here lies a man who surrounded himself with men abler than himself."

Many able people are working for you, scientists, inventors, manufacturers, all trying to make something you want. Do you use their brains and their efforts—"surround yourself with them"—or do you plod along by yourself, years behind the times?

Take your own home. Have you your share of modern improvements there—money-saving, labor-saving, health-promoting? One of the most important of these is a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

A New Perfection stove never overheats a kitchen. It saves fuel and time. With the New Perfection oven with the glass door you can go on with your ironing or any other work, and still be sure at a glance the joint is roasting properly.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the

3c Summer Clearance Sale of Superior Wall Paper 3c

Last spring I bought the biggest stock of wall paper that ever came to Danville. It was necessary for me to buy in car load lots in order to get jobbers prices. I purchased a larger stock than any dealer in Lexington and only two or three dealers in Louisville bought as heavily as I did. A large part of this stock was delayed in shipment, much of it arriving entirely too late for my annual spring opening.

On account of the low prices that I was enabled to make as a result of my wholesale purchases, I have sold more wall paper in the past four months than has ever been sold in Danville in 12 months before. Customers have come from four counties. Notwithstanding, I still have my shelves and warehouses crowded with the very best creations of both the foreign and domestic manufacturers.

I Propose to Sell my Stock at Actual Manufacturer's Cost and Much Less in Many Grades.

This sale will begin promptly.

Monday Morning at 9 O'clock, June 19th, 1911
For Ten Days

All Papers that have been selling at 5 to 7 cents per roll will be sold at

3c per roll

The medium grade papers that sold at 18 to 20c have marked down to 8 to 10 cents per roll. Imported papers and specialties of the celebrated Strand and Graves factories that sell the world over at prices ranging from 75c to $1.00 per roll will go during this sale at 20 to 50 cents.

You now have a chance to secure real high-class papers at the prices you have heretofore paid for cheap stuff. People owning flats, tenant house and boarding houses should take advantage of this exceptional opportunity to make their places look fresh and new.

LIGHTNING KILLS FEW.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Maden, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. On y soc at Penny's Drug tore.

To Keep Young.

Think that you are young. On your birthday don't allow yourself to think that you are a year old. Keep mental cobwebs, dust and brain ashes brushed off by frequent changes.

Don't be too ambitious. The canker of overreaching ambition has eaten up the happiness of many a life and shortened its years.

Put some beauty into your life every day by seeing beautiful works of art, beautiful bits of scenery or by reading some fine poem or selection in prose.—Buffalo News.

WHICH IS BEST DAIRY BREED?

Question Often Asked—and Never Satisfactorily Answered—Selection of Individual is Vital.

How often does that question come up? It is constantly asked, and never satisfactorily answered. Which girl will make the best wife? There are a host of men trying to find out.

On the cow question the following classification by Prof. F. E. Woodward of Utah is comprehensive, fair and just:

Ranked with reference to the amount of milk produced, the breeds stand as follows: Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey and Jersey. With reference to richness of milk: Jersey, Guernsey, Ayrshire, Holstein. With reference to color of milk: Guernsey, Jersey, Ayrshire, Holstein. With reference to size: Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Jersey. With reference to early maturity qualities: Jersey, Guernsey.

Farris Golden Winnie.

Ayrshire, Holstein. With reference to ability to rustle for a living: Ayrshire, Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein.

There is very little difference in the amount of butter fat that is produced on the average by various breeds. There is a great deal more difference between the individuals of a breed than between the breeds. Good cows are found in every breed. And poor cows are found in every breed. A good Holstein is better than a poor Jersey, and a good Jersey is better than a poor Holstein. The selection of a breed, then, is not of so much importance as the selection of the individuals within the breed.

The illustration shows the head of Farris Golden Winnie, a champion 2-year-old Jersey Heifer on the Wisconsin state farm.

Milk Producing Power.

Other things being equal, the capacity for digestion of a dairy cow represents her milk-producing power. With large, strong digestive organs she is able to assimilate much food and transform it into more valuable food, milk and butter fat.

HOW COUNTRY EDITORS GET RICH.

After long and careful research, much reflection and prayerful consideration, a great deal of worry and study we have at last figured out how so many country editors get rich. Here is the secret of their success. There is a child born in the neighborhood. The attending physician gets $10. The editor gives the loud-lunged youngster a great send off and gets $50. It is christened and the minister gets $5 and the editor gets $50. It grows and marries. The editor publishes another long, winded, flowery article and tells a dozen lies about "the beautiful and accomplished bride." The minister gets $10 and a piece of the cake. The editor gets $500 and a request to carry the groom's subscription account another year. In the course of the time he dies. The doctor gets from $5 to $100, the minister gets another $5 and the undertaker gets from $5 to $100. The editor publishes a notice of the death and an obituary two columns long, lodge resolutions, a lot of poetry, and a card of thanks and gets $5,000. No wonder so many country editors get rich.—Ex.

NOTHING TO FEAR.

The Girl—Go back and lick him, you coward!
The Victim—But he's already given me two black eyes.
The Girl—Well, he can't give you any more, can he?

The Black Cap.

A small, limp piece of black cloth is, according to ancient custom, put on the top of the judge's wig in England before he passes sentence of death and is properly called the "sentence cap," or "black cap." Covering the head was a sign of mourning among the Israelites, Greeks, Romans and Anglo-Saxons and is referred to in Samuel II, 15-30. Putting on the black cap is not a grim sign of revenge of the law, but is rather a token of sorrow, expressing the regret the judge feels at having to condemn the prisoner to death.

For Sale—I will sell at public auction at 10 o'clock Friday, June 23, in front of the courthouse door in Stanford a $425 Star piano, brand new and a splendid instrument. Terms $25 cash, balance $10 a month at 6 percent interest. E. J. Ford, Danville, Col. J. P. Chandler, Auctioneer. 46-3p.

Sheriff W. L. McCarty, took four negro prisoners, who were convicted and sentenced at the recent term of the Lincoln circuit court, to the penitentiary this week. They were the three negroes who waylaid and robbed the tobacco men on the Danville pike in February, Les Gregory, who goes 10 from 4 to 20 years, Curley, Johnson and Bud Hawkins, 5 to 25 years each. He also took Percy Stewart, who was convicted of robbing Baughman's mill and will serve one to five years.

A tremendous amount of mail matter was handled through the Stanford postoffice during the month of May, during which period the postal officials, required that an exact account be kept by the postmasters. There was handled in the local office exactly 593,940 pieces of mail, and Postmaster Florence says that this was rather a light month.

Lesson XII.—Second Quarter,
For June 18, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Kings xvii, 1-14—Memory Verse, 14—Golden Text, Prov. xxix, 1—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

A brief summary of the story of the ten tribes and their sin is found in verse 21 of our lesson chapter in these words, "He rent Israel from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, king, and Jeroboam drew Israel from following the Lord and made them sin a great sin." Our whole lesson today is a summary of the sin of the ten tribes. From their first king, Jeroboam, to their last, Hoshea, they had, including these two, nineteen rulers covering a period of 200 years, part of which was an interregnum and part a time of anarchy. There was not one good ruler among them all, nor any real turning to the Lord, though He sent them from time to time as His messengers to plead with them, the unnamed man of God from Judah and the prophets Ahijah, Elijah, Micaiah, Elisha, Jonah, Hosea, Amos and Oded. The record of their persistent rebellion and sin is given briefly in verses 14 to 18 of our lesson chapter, and what a record it is! They would not hear, did not believe in the Lord their God, rejected His statutes, left all His commandments, followed vanity and became vain, sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the Lord. The record concerning Judah over a hundred years later reads thus: "They mocked the messengers of God and despised His words and misused His prophets until the wrath of the Lord arose against His people till there was no remedy" (II Chron. xxxvi, 16).

Last days have always been times of great rebellion against God, as were the days of Noah before the flood (Gen. vi, 5, 11, 12), and, according to the testimony of our Lord Jesus, such will be the case again at the end of this age just before He shall come in His glory to set up His kingdom of righteousness and peace on this earth (Matt. xxiv, 37-39; Luke xvii, 26-30). The present unbelief in high places, in pulpits and in many theological seminaries is a sure indication that we are in the last days of this evil age, which are described in II Tim. iii, 1-5; I Cor. v, 1; I Pet. iii, 3-7. As truly as the flood came in the days of Noah, the captivity of Israel and Judah in their day, the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of Israel among all nations, so surely shall the judgments come that are to close this age and introduce a better one of peace and righteousness. The warning as to what would come upon them if they turned away from the Lord and served other gods is written very plainly in Deut. iv, 25-27, and elsewhere, and, though the purpose of God may be delayed, whether for mercy or judgment, it cannot be frustrated (Isa. xlv, 24). God gives many a warning before He finally lets the stroke fall. In the days of the king preceding Hoshea a king of Assyria carried away many captives (chapter xv, 29), but the warning was not heeded.

This was probably the Sargon of Isa. xx, 1. On what is known as Sargon's cylinder, exhumed from Nineveh, are found these words, "I besieged the city of Samaria and took it. I carried off 27,280 of the citizens. I chose fifty chariots for myself from the whole number taken. All the other property of the people of the town I left for my servants to take. In the place of those taken into captivity I sent thither inhabitants of lands conquered by me and imposed the tribute on them which I require from Assyrians." This reads very much like verse 24 of our lesson chapter, and the following verses tell how this mixed multitude under the teaching of one of the priests of Israel learned to fear the Lord and serve their own gods after the manner of the nations (verse 33). "They feared the Lord and served their graven images" (verse 41), which means that they did not in any true sense fear the Lord (verse 34). They are described in Isa. xlix, 13 as those who honor God only with mouth and lips, but have removed the heart far from Him, and their fear toward Him is taught by the precept of men. See also Ezek. xxxiii, 31, and the words of the Lord Jesus in Matt. xv, 7-9. The last days of this present age are described in II Tim. iii.

Israel had been brought out of Egypt and placed in the land given to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob that they might be a peculiar people unto God, set apart for Himself, unlike other nations, having God Himself as their king, judge and lawgiver (Ex. xix, 4-6; Isa. xxxiii, 22). But first secretly and then openly they turned from God to idols and did as the heathen whom the Lord carried away before them (verses 9-12). Though He sent many messengers who entreated them to turn from their evil ways and return to the Lord, they would not hear, but hardened their necks like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God (verses 13, 14).

It is written in Tit. ii, 14 concerning present day believers that "Our Saviour Jesus Christ gave Himself for us that He might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto Himself a people for His own possession" (revised version). When we consider the conformity to this present age of the great mass of church members instead of their separation unto God we can but wonder at His mercy and long suffering, but the day of the Lord will come.

SPRING BRINGS SORE FEET HERE IS A POSITIVE CURE

With the advent of warm weather comes foot troubles to thousands of people. The increased temperature and heaviness of the atmosphere causes swelling and excess perspiration. This brings on a series of foot troubles. The treatment given below will be welcomed with joy by an army of sufferers. It acts like magic. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of hot water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. Less time will not give the desired results.) Repeat this each night until the cure is permanent." All soreness disappears immediately. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Bunions are reduced to normal and the inflammation drawn out. Sweaty and smelly feet, tender and swollen feet need but a few treatments. This Calocide is a remarkable drug. Formerly used only by doctors but any druggist now has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is claimed to cure the worst feet.

HUSTONVILLE

Our farmers are rejoicing since the arrival of that splendid rain Monday evening.

Julius McKinney is seriously ill from the effects of an injured foot that is getting worse instead of better.

The Union meeting of the three churches in our beloved city held at the Baptist Church last Sunday evening was well attended. Splendid talks by the pastors of each denomination, evidenced true brotherly love and a firm determination to work in union for the bringing of souls to Christ.

The prospect for a bountiful crop this year in this vicinity was never more flattering. Our farmers never wore broader smiles nor felt more thankful to "The Master" for His generosity.

Mrs. Maggie Rudolph, of St. Louis, who has been the guest of her cousin Mrs. E. McCormack on West Main street, has returned home after a two weeks delightful visit.

Mr. D. S. Carpenter, who has been quite ill for some weeks past, we are glad to report him much better and hope for his full recovery at an early date.

Dr. Alcorn was called to Stanford on professional business Wednesday and returned home Thursday.

Mr. Silas Sandidge is one of the most efficient horse handlers and trainers in the county. He is caring for Mr. D. S. Carpenter's business during his illness.

Miss Marjorie McCormick and Mrs. Eugene Dunn, were among the Hustonville guests that attended the Woods-Anderson nuptials at Stanford on Thursday afternoon, June 8th.

Mrs. Mary Logan, of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting her numerous friends and relatives in our city where she was a resident for many years. She expressed a desire to again be a citizen of Hustonville.

The ladies of the C. W. B. M. met Thursday in the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hocker on Western Ave.

Mrs. Sarah M. Walls who lives near Geneva, is in her 78th year and in good health. She was married in 1848 and is the mother of thirteen children, who have 64 grand-children, 4 great grand-children and two great great grand-children. Making a total of five generations numbering 135 descendants.

Messrs. McCormick, our wide awake stock-dealers, shipped last week 1000 lbs. of lambs, 1 car hogs and one car cattle for which they paid the top of the market.

Miss Mary Murrell, of Campbellsville and Miss Elma McGee of Mt. Washington, were guests of Mr. Julius McKinney last week.

An interurban line from here to Moreland is among the favored possibilities in the near future. This line can be built at a remarkably low cost, as the route is a hill side cut most all the way. More than seventeen thousand acres of timber have been pledged to be brought here for shipment to Cincinnati, when this line is ready for business and more than double this amount can be secured when the route is a certainty. The Hustonville Commercial Club has the matter in hand and hopes to have the aid and influence of the entire community. Address for particulars, the Secretary of Hustonville Commercial Club.

Mrs. Francis Cable, who has been ill for some weeks, we are sorry to report her condition no better.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mansfield of Lexington, are spending this week with us and enjoying country life in the Blue Grass after a long housed season in the city.

Mrs. Carrie Traynor, of near Rowland is visiting her relatives and friends in our city this week.

VALENTINE, WARDEN HANDLER AND ROSE LANE

"You will do neither, and you will desist from insinuating that I am a criminal or I will cause the watchman to eject you from the bank. Further, I do not know that you are a detective. Your actions are those of a blackmailer—or—"

A clerk entered.

"Did you ring, sir?"

"Yes. Kindly remove that currency," cried Valentine, eyeing Doyle. "So many suspicious characters about in these hard times that one must always be careful of strange visitors, particularly in a banking office."

The clerk cast an apprehensive glance at Doyle, whose face had turned red with rage, and, seizing the tray, hurried toward the vault room with it.

"Take it out, take it out," commanded Valentine, waving his hand. "I shall take no chances. Now, Mr. Doyle, either show credentials to prove what you are or I shall telephone the police."

Doyle, amazed at the effrontery and daring assurance of Jimmy Valentine, fell back against the wall, his legs threatening to give way beneath his heavy body.

"In the name of Dan the Dip," he exclaimed helplessly, "if the crooks were all as slick as you, Jimmy, the jails would all be empty. You don't dare do it."

Jimmy Valentine picked up the telephone and, getting the central of the bank's exchange, ordered in no uncertain tones:

"Get me police headquarters at once."

Doyle was further astounded by the readiness with which the baffling young man before him had accepted his challenge to call the police. Was it possible, after all, that he had been mistaken? No. It was Jimmy Valentine who stood before him, the same Jimmy that was wanted by the Massachusetts authorities for that old and almost forgotten "job" in the savings bank of Springfield, Mass.—$14,000 in currency taken on a Washington's birthday night and not a mark of an instrument or of an explosive on the safe when next morning the doors were found yawning open, the night watchman gagged and bound helplessly to the metal legs of a stationary washstand in the vice president's office.

"Here, cut that out!" he cried, lunging forward at Valentine, awaiting a response to his call. "Don't bring any of these locals in on a big job like this!" He thrust back his coat and, opening his vest, revealed a shining shield fastened on one of his suspender straps. Valentine bent over and inspected it very deliberately and very closely. He turned to the telephone and instructed central to countermand his call—all a mistake. The two men seated themselves. Doyle drawing a chair close to the assistant cashier's desk.

"Very well, sir. Now if you can see fit to refrain from your embarrassing questions and innuendoes I am sure we may arrive at something."

"Of course you know you will have to prove that you are not Jimmy Valentine."

"Pardon me, Mr. Doyle, if I set you right on a point of law," smiled Valentine. "You will have to prove that I am your friend, Jimmy Valentine."

"But you won't make me," laughing confidently.

"No. To expedite matters I will convince you that I am not."

"Please do, Jimmy."

"Very well. Tell me how I may prove it."

"Very simply. I said goodbye to you in a hotel one afternoon in Albany three years ago. You were fresh from Sing Sing prison."

"Am I to understand that I was in prison, a prisoner?"

"Doing a bit," yes.

"But I couldn't have been. I couldn't have been in two places at the same time."

"No, not easily, and as Sing Sing doesn't allow its boarders to go visiting I guess you were there. Now, think hard and try to remember," advised the detective.

"Mr. Doyle, there can be no chance of any deception in so open and shut a matter. If I was in prison I must be your man. If I was not—"

"You were in Sing Sing; committed on the 9th of February, 1906."

"February 9, 1906, I was in St. Paul, Minnesota, sir," returned Valentine positively.

"Well, the proof is finally up to you."

"But my word," injuredly.

"Oh, you are going to talk me out of it."

"But I can't get proof in an instant. Go up there and investigate."

"No! It's too far, and don't forget you were going to prove it."

Valentine now appeared to be disconcerted. Doyle watched him curiously. He did not underestimate the cleverness of the young man who had outwitted the veteran trackers of men for years and whose escapades extended over half a continent. But he was anxious for the next step in what he considered a colossal attempt at deception.

CHAPTER XV.

VALENTINE broke the silence. "But to prove so important a matter so suddenly—on a second's notice—why, no man on earth can— Wait. If I happen to have that scrap book here; I brought it down one day, and if—he opened a drawer—here it is. Of course there may be nothing here on the exact date you mention." The last doubtfully.

"What's this?"

"A scrap book. I suppose all people are the same about this little vanity," whimsically. "You doubtless cut out the first clippings about yourself you ever saw in print. There—no, that's made. The first, what was that date—February what?"

"Ninth," Doyle rose impatiently.

"This is too good," put in Valentine. "Here, look here." He indicated the picture on the wall. "Who is that as big as life there? It's been staring us both in the face ever since you've been here."

Doyle went to the photograph. "That was on Feb. 9, 1906—why, yes, the photographer even dated it."

"Is this you?" Doyle pointed to one of the figures in the group.

"Well, look at it. If this Valentine was in prison that must be me. You said yourself that Sing Sing doesn't allow boarders to go visiting."

Doyle stepped back in front of Valentine's desk.

"You can alibi yourself into hell, Valentine, but you can't get away from that scar on your left wrist."

Doyle had reserved this telling shot for a critical moment.

"I never had a scar on my left wrist," the other returned jubilantly.

"Let's see," the detective snapped unbelievably.

"But that proves nothing," Valentine drew back as he spoke. He appeared unwilling to permit Doyle to make an examination of his wrist.

"Let me see, I tell you. It's got to be shown sooner or later. Delay won't get you anything." Doyle was forcing the fighting now. He was certain that he had Valentine cornered.

The assistant cashier thrust his hands behind his back.

"Don't you realize," he said triumphantly, "that that is a very old fashioned method of identification? Don't you know that since the introduction of a horsehair in sewing wounds there is never a scar?" He smiled irritatingly at Doyle.

As a reply the detective bent swiftly across the desk, seized Valentine's arm and drew his left hand toward him.

"Could an old scar be opened and sewed with horsehair and disappear?" he asked dazedly as he saw the wrist was unmarked by any indication of a scar.

"I don't know; I presume so," indifferently.

Doyle was silent. This last denouement disconcerted him more than had anything else. An idea came to him. He lunged forward, clutching Valentine's right hand in his own, and jerked it across the desk. "Was it the left wrist that was scarred?" he cried.

He pushed back the cuff, but the surface of the right wrist was as smooth and as unbroken as the other.

"Anything else I can do for you?" asked the assistant cashier calmly as Doyle let go his hand.

"By —, that's funny," murmured Doyle. He looked across the room to the picture on the wall. He drew a magnifying glass from his coat pocket and stepped before the handsomely framed photograph once more. He passed the lens up and down and across, over the face of the photograph, then wheeled about and faced Jimmy Valentine.

"Mr. Randall," he said apologetically, "you must excuse my mistake—my most unfortunate mistake—and I trust that you will overlook my ungentlemanly manner. I now realize that I have been making insinuations against an entirely innocent man. You of course realize the difficulties of my profession—how in dealing with the brightest criminal brains in the world we cannot avoid making errors at times, but—his face glowed pride—

"I will say in justice to myself that this is the first mistake of the kind I have ever made."

"Quite true—quite true, I am sure, my dear sir," commented Jimmy Valentine condescendingly. "I can see that you are exceptionally able in your line. Some day if we ever have a loss here through thievery I shall be most glad to recommend you to the directors, and I am sorry that you feel so embarrassed at your error regarding me."

"Oh, cut that! Don't worry about me," said Doyle ruefully. "Wait till I put the bracelets on the real Jimmy Valentine, then save your sympathy for him. He'll pay for this day's work. It's all through him that I made a sucker out of myself today. Mr. Randall, and when I get him he's going to come through, which means confess."

Doyle paused for breath and concluded, "I'm on the biggest job of my whole career, and when I finish it I'll have the real Jimmy Valentine sewed up in a little stone jug 6 by 8, without light or fresh air, and what he'll get to eat would make a pit bull terrier turn vegetarian."

Valentine in spite of the danger that attended his situation could not resist the temptation to continue the conversation with Doyle. It was dangerous—no doubt as to that. At any moment the young man might let drop a word or a hint that would betray himself into his enemy's hands by confirming the detective's suspicions.

But the daring Valentine relished the spice of excitement in the situation. He played with the detective as a cat with a squeaking mouse.

"To be sure, you do not promise this man Jimmy Valentine a very merry time of it when you finally land him," Valentine said. "I am glad I am not he."

Doyle laughed grimly.

"The resemblance is the most startling I have ever encountered," he answered. "You are perhaps a trifle taller—a half inch, maybe—but, aside from that and the wrist scar, you and Valentine are exact."

Valentine smiled fatuously—quite intentionally so.

"I should hate to have so clever a man as you hunting me, Mr. Doyle," he went on, "and from what you say I assume you have been after him some time."

After six years work, G. T. Ashlock, of Hustonville, has completed an improved corn planter which he believes will revolutionize the work of the farmers in handling this seed. His model is at his place in the West End and he has secured patents upon it. Those who have seen it believe that he has a fortune in it. He will put it on the market. It works without a chain and has other improvements which are designed to eliminate many of the defects of the planters now in use. Mr. Ashlock will probably bring his planter to Stanford some court day soon and put it on exhibition here.

MILK CART THAT IS CURIOUS

Device Resembles Life-Sized Cow in Which Product Is Stored and Kept at Right Temperature.

A curious idea for milk carts is contained in a patent, applied for in 1898, says the Popular Mechanics. Just what it is intended for is told by the inventor himself: "My invention is a new and useful improvement in milk refrigerators and delivery apparatus, and has for its object the provision of a device that resembles a life-sized cow, in which milk may be stored and kept at a proper temperature, and from which it may be drawn as occasion requires after the manner of milking a cow. Within the body are receptacles or compartments, each of which is provided with a cover and adapted to contain the desired quantity of milk. By the use of two receptacles two quantities of milk may be stored at the same time, such as sweet milk and buttermilk. In the bottom of each of the receptacles is located a valve having a spring for normally holding it in place, so as to prevent the downflowing of the milk. Each of the tanks has a toggle-lever connected to a lift-rod, and when the latter is raised the valve is lifted and the milk flows out of the tanks. By proper manipulation of this device a realistic representation may be had of the milking of a cow.

"The portion of the body of the imitation cow not occupied by the milk receptacles is utilized for the storing of ice to maintain the milk at a proper temperature. The imitation cow stands riveted to a wagon platform and is drawn through the streets in the same manner as an ordinary milk cart."

THE FLIRT

He—Good-night, dear. We must not kiss, or you will take my cold.
She—Never mind—I can pass it on!

THE FARM LIFE

(By Will G. McKinney.) There is no doubt but the farm life is the happiest, purest and most healthy to live. The farmers as a general rule are regular in their habits, they have a certain time to eat and sleep and it is natural to think that they are longer lived, and more healthy than any other class. They are independent and know that everything comes from the earth. Large and small cities are dependent on the tillers of the soil for their food and raiment. These "sons of toil" are mostly honest and most upright and make the most sincere christians. They may not dress in the latest style or fashion, but they are "diamonds in the rough." Bobby Burns says he may be clad in homespun clothes, but he is a man for a that. When they do enter for a charitable purpose they do not only give with their hands, but with their hearts are included in the good cause. When they converse their words come from their hearts and not from their lips altogether.

they labor from early dawn to late twilight to make a livelihood for their families.

They are somewhat to be pitied as they are almost in the hands of the trust, and have to sell and buy their prices. Yet after all their ups and downs they are said to be almost independent class of workmen, as they are their own boss, and live up to what the good book says. They make their living by the sweat of their brow. When the United States or Uncle Sam wants a good, pure young man, he prefers one from a rural district, for a soldier as he is apt to be temperate and have good habits. Country boys have not been demoralized by living in an immoral city.

Everything that grows that is bred or born comes from God's footstool, or mother earth's bosom. We were placed here as Adam and Eve were in the garden of Eden, to be tried, and if we live up to the commandments then we will be rewarded for our good works and behavior in the upper kingdom.

BOTH REQUIRED.

"I want to get insured."
"Yes, fire or life?"
"Both—I've got a wooden leg."
